

MANY NEW BOARDS

Governor to Announce Appointments This Week.

SEVERAL CHANGES EXPECTED.

First Places to Be Filled Will Be New Board of Education and Medical Commission - Also to Name Chestnut Blight Investigators.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 27.—Appointments to the various state boards and commissions provided by the last general assembly and the filling of vacancies on institutional boards are expected this week. Governor Tener, who spent the week in Philadelphia, Pittsburg and Charleroi, has returned and with all bills out of the way will clear up other business.

Among the first things to be disposed of will be the appointment of the members of the state's first board of education, to which the members of the school code commission will be named in recognition of their work in the last four years and because of their fitness for the places.

Then out of a long list of names the governor will probably select the members of the new state medical board, two of the number being the commissioner of health and superintendent of public instruction, ex officio members.

The commissions to codify anthracite mining laws, to investigate the condition of the feeble minded, to study the employers' liability laws and suggest a bill to the next legislature and the commission to investigate building construction will also be on the governor's list for action this week.

An important commission to be named will be that to eradicate the chestnut blight, which has caused thousands of dollars of loss to people in the southeastern part of the state and which threatens to spread.

Many appointments to boards of managers and trustees are looked for, as the governor has been holding over selections until he finished with bills. He personally investigated the attendance at meetings of a number of men whose terms expired this year, and changes are looked for. In addition, the terms of a number of men on state examining boards also expire about this time.

BALDWIN STRIKERS HAPPY.

Declare Company Cannot Get Enough Men to Operate Shops.

Philadelphia, June 27.—Asserting that the officials of the Baldwin Locomotive works cannot get enough men to operate the various shops, the union employees of the company who are out on strike say that the situation is encouraging.

The pickets who are stationed all around the plant report to the union leaders that none of the union men have reported for work and that only a few new men have entered the shops. The company does not admit that they brought men here to replace the strikers, but the latter declare that the officials of the works have been trying to get nonunion men.

Leaders of the union said that the canvassers collected considerable money since they began going from house to house on Saturday asking contributions in aid of the strikers. The receipts have not been counted yet, but the strikers say they believe they have obtained enough money to tide them over any financial stringency that may arise.

AFTER CANDY DYES.

State to Investigate Alleged Use of Deleterious Coloring.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 27.—Dairy and Food Commissioner Foust has announced that his department is about to begin an investigation of the cheaper candies, the so-called "penny goods" that are consumed so largely by children and are sold for the most part near schoolhouses.

It has been alleged that the bright colors which are so attractive to children are produced by dyes which, if not absolutely poisonous, have a deleterious effect, and the department has decided to make a thorough investigation of the charges.

For this purpose about 300 samples have been collected, about fifty in Philadelphia and 250 in forty-one cities and towns, representing in all about forty-two counties. These samples have been delivered to Dr. Charles H. La Wall of Philadelphia, chemist of the bureau, for complete analysis.

STOCKBROKERS SUSPEND.

Philadelphia Surprised at Failure of Norman MacLeod & Co.

Philadelphia, June 27.—When the stock exchange firm of Norman MacLeod & Co. announced its failure on the Philadelphia stock exchange it caused great surprise, as it was regarded as one of the richest in the city. Norman MacLeod being the son-in-law of John Wanamaker.

The firm was formed about ten years ago, composed of Norman MacLeod and his brother, Malcolm MacLeod. There had not been the slightest intimation of financial difficulties, and the firm had been believed to be perfectly solvent.

CLARENCE S. FUNK.

Who Repeats Lorimer's Story Before Man Who Denies It.

Washington, June 27.—Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the International Harvester company, whose account of the alleged request to him by Edward Hines of Chicago for a $100,000 contribution toward a $100,000 Lorimer election fund was largely responsible for the second inquiry into the Illinois senator's election, appeared before the senate Lorimer investigating committee. His testimony was expected to develop a crucial stage in the inquiry, inasmuch as a question of veracity between him and Mr. Hines has arisen as to the alleged request to help reimburse those who raised the $100,000.

There was intense interest on the part of the committee, the counsel and the spectators as Mr. Funk took the stand to tell his story.

Mr. Funk faced Mr. Hines, who had been given special permission to attend the hearing instead of being required to stay in the witness room.

Mr. Funk then repeated his story of the conversation with Mr. Hines, in which the request for the $10,000 contribution is said to have been made. "Just as casual as the sale of a car of lumber," was the way Mr. Funk referred to the proposition.

SEAMEN'S STRIKE SERIOUS.

English Ship Owners Refuse to Make Any Concessions.

London, June 27.—The ship owners have at last realized the necessity for concerted action in view of the growth of the strike. As a result meetings have been held in every affected district for the purpose of deciding upon a policy. It is expected that many firms will indorse the position taken by the shipping owners at Leith, who unanimously agreed that in view of the condition of the freight market and the competition of foreign shippers concessions were impossible. They will lay up their ships rather than yield. The owners at Hull and Goole have taken the same stand.

The most serious phase of the strike is the action of the dockers and transport workers, who are out at many places. Thousands quit at Liverpool. While the walk-out is ostensibly in sympathy with the seamen and firemen, the men made it clear that they will themselves demand an advance in wages. It is uncertain as yet whether the National Union of Dock Laborers will officially indorse the action of the men in going out. The union is both numerically and financially strong, so that if it gives its countenance to the fight it will be a bitter and costly one.

600 ATHLETES IN MEET.

National Amateur Contests at Pittsburg Begin Tuesday.

Pittsburg, June 27.—Athletes from all parts of the United States are beginning to reach this city to participate in the National Amateur Athletic union junior and senior championship games to be held at Forbes field for two days, June 30 and July 1.

Special interest attaches to the forthcoming affair here because of the fact that from the winners will be elected some of the American representatives to the Olympic games next year at Stockholm, Sweden.

Provision has been made to accommodate between 40,000 and 50,000 spectators during the two days. A feature of the meet is the fact that no admission fee is to be charged. The entire program is free to the public.

Among the cities which will be represented are Pittsburg, New York; Brooklyn, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Chicago, Cincinnati, Kansas City, St. Louis, Cleveland, Seattle, San Francisco, New Orleans, Washington, Pa.; Springfield, Mass.; Paterson, N. J.; Exeter, N. H., and New Wilmington, Pa. In all 600 athletes will compete.

Mrs. Jenkins Jewel Smuggling Case Reaches Head.

PARR "HOUNDED," HE SAYS.

Detective Employed by Rich Manufacturer Mentioned in Case Denies His Men Repeated Damaging Story to Customs Man's Wife.

New York, June 27.—Such information as the government has obtained concerning the alleged smuggling into this port of valuable jewelry said to have been presented to Mrs. Helen Jenkins, has been turned over to United States Attorney Wise. Collector Loeb declines to discuss the case, but it was said that he has started an investigation of the report that customs men were bribed when the illegal importations were made.

The Nathan Allen mentioned is a leather manufacturer of Kenosha, Wis., who is said to have presented Mrs. Jenkins with the smuggled jewelry. John R. Collins of Nashville, Tenn., has also been mentioned in the case, and it is intimated that several persons in New York had something to do with Mrs. Jenkins' jewels.

The customs house became interested in the case last April, when Richard Parr, the deputy surveyor who figured so prominently in the sugar overweighing cases, told Collector Loeb that he had received a tip concerning a smuggling scheme with unusual features. Since then $5,000 worth of jewels which were in Mrs. Jenkins' possession have been seized by the customs men.

It was from Mrs. Jenkins principally that information concerning the smuggling is understood to have been obtained, and last month Mrs. Jenkins went to Chicago, where she was met by Parr in the course of his investigations. It is said that the government's information concerns jewelry and wearing apparel valued at over $300,000.

Since the investigation was taken up many stories calculated to discredit Mr. Parr have reached government offices. Mr. Parr has said that during his investigations he had been "hounded" very much as he was while working on the sugar cases. Last Thursday some one called up Mr. Parr's wife on the telephone and tried to tell her a story which, if true, would have reflected upon her husband's personal character and which was highly unpleasant to hear in any event. Mrs. Parr became hysterical, and yesterday her child was born dead. Mrs. Parr, it was said, is recovering. Her husband says that he means to see the fight through, no matter what happens.

The Mooney & Boland detective agency, which has for a long time acted in Mr. Allen's interests as far as those interests concern Mrs. Jenkins, denies that it was one of their operatives who spoke to Mrs. Parr on the telephone.

The detective agency superintendent denies that any one connected with the office did anything to hinder Parr in his work and adds that, on the contrary, the agency offered to the government by letter to Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh and Collector Loeb to hand over their information concerning Mrs. Jenkins.

More recently Mr. Allen's counsel, Mr. Forrest, went to Collector Loeb. He told the collector that he represented both Mr. Allen and Mr. Collins in this matter, and that if the government could show any claim or make any specific accusation against either man they would settle at once if it was a case of undervaluation or failure to declare and that Mr. Allen would come on at once to face any specific charge.

Mr. Loeb declined the offer, and it is understood that he wants the whole affair aired in court in order to clear up the imputations concerning his own men, as well as to secure the conviction of any one who may be guilty.

AMENDMENT FAILS

Senate Rejects Root's Reciprocity Proposal.

EXPECT AN EARLY VOTE NOW

Senator Penrose Presents Agreement to Vote on Canadian Pact and Other Bills Before July 26, but Progressives May Oppose Plan.

Washington, June 27.—The Root amendment to the Canadian reciprocity bill was defeated in the senate. The indications are now that reciprocity has free sailing and will pass without amendment at an earlier date than has been expected.

The Root amendment was defeated without any record vote, no roll having been demanded. Vice President Sherman simply stated the question, there was a mild chorus of "yeas" and a louder chorus of "nays," and he declared the amendment lost.

The Root amendment proposed to delay the free admission of wood pulp and print paper into this country until all restrictions against the exportation of these products had been removed by the Canadian provinces. Under the terms of the bill in its present form pulp and print paper will be admitted free from all provinces except those that maintain export restrictions.

Steps were immediately taken looking toward the fixing of a date for voting upon the reciprocity and other tariff measures. An agreement was drawn up by Chairman Penrose of the finance committee and submitted to a number of senators on both sides of the chamber.

This agreement proposes that a vote should be taken by unanimous consent on the Canadian reciprocity bill on July 24; on the farmers' free list on the following day, and on the Underwood wool bill on July 26.

There was considerable interest manifested on the floor when Senator Penrose produced this document. He took it to the vice president and the two retired to the rear of the senate chamber and began summoning senators to take a look at it.

Senator Martin of Virginia, the minority leader, was called in, but was not very much disposed to acquiesce in it. Other Democratic leaders, including Senator Williams of Mississippi, were consulted. Senator Snoot of Utah, Senator Root and Senator Sutherland had a look at the document. Senator Penrose felt rather cheerful when the senate adjourned and said he would probably submit the agreement to the senate later and ask for unanimous consent that it be made the standing order of business.

The Progressive Republicans, when they learned of the agreement, held hurried conferences and the indications are that even if the Democrats acquiesce in the agreement a number of the Progressive senators will stand out against it. In such a contingency the agreement will fail.

When the reciprocity bill was called up by Chairman Penrose of the finance committee Senator Cummins of Iowa gave notice of an intention to address the senate tomorrow upon the measure and particularly in regard to amendments he intended to propose.

Announcing he had opposed the reciprocity pact since its initial appearance, Senator Thornton of Louisiana said that if such a free list could be agreed upon as would recompense the farmers for loss he might support the agreement.

STARVING BY THOUSANDS.

Charles R. Crane Reports Critical Situation in Albania.

Vienna, June 27.—Advices from Albania report the situation there extremely critical. Turkey has massed 50,000 troops within a day's march of the Montenegrin frontier.

Charles R. Crane of Chicago, who has just arrived at Vienna from Cetinje, Montenegro, after traveling through Albania, describes the conditions as intolerable. The Turks, he says, are devastating whole districts, killing prisoners, refugee women and children, burning houses and crops and blowing up churches. A large body of Albanian women and children is now caught between two wings of the Turkish army and escape is impossible.

Mr. Crane adds that 25,000 women and children have fled to Montenegro and are starving there, their only means of subsistence being boiled grass and various roots they are able to gather.

The base ball team journeyed to Hawley on Saturday last and sustained their first defeat of the season in a well-played game of ball with the team of that place. The game was brim full of thrillers, each team having the lead at times. The Hawley boys stayed off defeat time after time by fine catches in the field. The deciding runs were made in the 8th inning on a combination of three hits, a base on balls and an error.

The boys say they received fine treatment and all speak well of the umpiring of Peter Hittinger. A return game at Aldenville in the near future will draw a crowd.

The management of the team will conduct a box social on Friday night of this week in Odd Fellows' hall. The ladies, married as well as single, who have heretofore been so generous, will no doubt again "fall in line" with boxes heavily laden with appetizers. This method of obtaining the necessary ready cash for the heavy expenses of the team, seems to be the most reliable way of keeping up the sport.

On Saturday the strong Tigers of Carbondale will be the local's opponents and a fine game is assured.

The Hawley score follows:
